

Possible Solutions

- a) Joe wants to borrow a board game from his friend. The last time he borrowed a game he couldn't find it for four months. When he did return it, some of the pieces and a few of the cards were missing. Is this an example of responsible or irresponsible borrowing? Explain your thinking.

This is irresponsible borrowing because Joe lost the game and took a long to return it. He also didn't take care of the game and lost some of its pieces.

- b) Dillon borrowed a remote control car from his friend to play with over the weekend. He returned it on Sunday evening. He also gave his friend a new set of fresh batteries for the car and thanked him for letting him borrow it. Is this an example of responsible or irresponsible borrowing? Explain your thinking.

This is responsible borrowing because Dillon returned the car when he promised and even gave his friend new batteries for the car and thanked him.
