

The least common multiple is the smallest multiple that two or more numbers have in common.