

Hint

How might you use a place value chart to decide the order in which they should be written? Make sure you have a number in each column. A number with more digits may or may not be greater than a number with fewer digits. It all depends on the place value.

Units	.	Tenths	Hundredths	Thousandths

How might you use a number line to decide the order in which they should be written?

