

Perpendicular lines are lines that intersect at right angles to each other to form square corners.