

Possible Solutions

A grant is money that is given to a student by the government and does not have to be paid back. It can be need-based, or some are based on academic achievement. In this case, a grant can help Jocelyn because she will NOT have to pay it back and it will cover costs she would otherwise be expected to pay for.