

Corresponding sides are the sides between two figures in the same relative position. For example, Side PQ and side XY are an example of corresponding sides in the triangles below.

