

Hint

- One possible solution path involves two-steps, adding to find a total and then subtracting to find what is remaining.
- Use mental strategies and properties of operations to check.