

Hint

The prediction of a qualitative outcome is based on the probability. The higher the probability, the more likely the outcome. The lower the probability, the less likely the outcome.