

Volume is the amount of space within an object. The volume of many types of shapes can be measured, but the most common shapes volume is measured are prisms such triangular prisms, rectangular prisms, cubes, etc. The measurement unit is expressed in cubic units.